Weddings

at Great North Museum: Hancock

Say your vows...

Say your vows under the watchful eyes of one of the largest creatures to walk the planet or amongst the Ancient Egyptian mummies or against the backdrop of our stunning 'Bio Wall'. That's what we can offer here at the Great North Museum: Hancock.

Create a memorable day for you and your partner, as well as friends and family. All our rooms are licensed for wedding ceremonies, so whether you choose an informal buffet around the museum's own T-rex, an intimate wedding breakfast for 12 in The Council Room, an extravagant celebration for hundreds in the Special Exhibitions Gallery, or a summer drinks reception in The Clore Suite and patio, you can find the perfect space here.

One of the North East's most exciting new venues, The Great North Museum: Hancock has just undergone an amazing £26m redevelopment. We may not be as old as the dinosaur but we do come with years of experience when it comes to planning your wedding. Your dedicated wedding coordinator will ensure your wedding day is beautiful.

Your food will be of the highest order and the best quality ingredients will be sourced for your menu with recommended wines and champagnes to complement the dishes, prepared by our in-house caterer Sodexo Prestige.

Dare to be different – come and see just what we have to offer here at The Great North Museum: Hancock.

Spaces to hire

Clore Suites offer a versatile arrangement of space suitable for civil ceremonies, wedding breakfasts and small evening receptions. The larger Clore Suite opens onto a spacious patio with a raised pond and planted area providing an ideal location for a summer drinks reception. These rooms can be used individually or interlinked to create a large space.

Special Exhibitions Gallery is a large open planned space, measuring nearly 500 square metres, which can be used for civil ceremonies, wedding breakfasts and evening receptions. This space can be partitioned into three separate areas offering great flexibility.

The Hancock Café with views over the landscaped front garden can also be hired for more intimate wedding breakfasts, drinks receptions and evening receptions.

The Council Room an intimate room available for hire. Lined with Victorian bookcases and boasting stunning views over the city, it makes a unique setting for an intimate family gathering.
